

1. Authors

Matthieu Gillot

Architecte

Matthieu Gillot is an architect graduated from the Université libre de Bruxelles, Belgium. After professional experiences in Barcelona and Geneva, he is engaged as an SNSF researcher at the University of Lausanne since March 2020 to lead the SNSF project "Collective Cycling Mobilisation in South America" carried out during a bicycle trip.

Institute of Geography and Sustainability (IGD), Observatory of Cycling and Active Mobility (OUVEMA), University of Lausanne.

Contact: matthieu.gillot@unil.ch

Projects with the Forum

The analysis of cycling protest movements in North America: Mexico City, San Francisco and Vancouver

Matthieu Gillot, Patrick Rérat

Santiago's “Plurinational Cycling Revolution” - cycling as a tool for multiple demands

Matthieu Gillot, Patrick Rérat

Publications with the Forum