This research is carried out by a group of students from the master's degree in urban planning and development at the University of Paris 1, under the direction of Jean Debie. The group consists of five students: Antoine Chastenet, Reda Hajib, Oscar Pichlak, Jimena Sierra and Thibault Vermeulen, who have backgrounds in geography and sociology. They have developed their knowledge of mobility and urban planning issues through internships and dissertations on cycling, public transport, and an experiment in tactical urban planning favouring active modes. Two of the students also have international experience, one student being Peruvian and the other having conducted research in Barcelona.
