Julie Perrin

Geographer-planner

Post-doctoral researcher at Mines Paris - PSL (ISIGE) and associate researcher at LVMT (University Gustave Eiffel). Her research aims to understand the strategies and interactions between stakeholders in the face of the imperatives of socio-ecological transition. Her work focuses on analysing the structuring of public policies: the way in which they incorporate mobility practices and aim to reduce their impact on the environment, changes in the organisation of work (places and practices of mobility), and the implementation of policies for the energy renovation of buildings.
