

1. Authors

Rémy Prud'Homme

Économiste

Professor Emeritus of economics of the University Paris XIII, he also is the former Deputy Director for Environment of OECD, visiting professor at MIT, and a regular World Bank consultant. He worked on public finances and transport issues. For further details please see: www.rprudhomme.com

Publications with the Forum

Is transport infrastructure responsible for economic development?

Controversie with Rémy Prud'Homme, Jean-Marc Offner, Emmanuel Ravalet

1 <http://www.rprudhomme.com>

