Artiste

Born in 1957, artist (Ai Weiwei) shares his time between Beijing, Berlin, and his studio on the island of Lesbos, in Greece. His work takes a variety of forms, including video, photography, installations, sculpture, architecture, curating, publishing, blogging, music and happenings. His extremely rigorous approach, both conceptually and artistically, unflinchingly addresses some of the most sensitive subjects in our society. An important part of his work is now about the migrant crisis in Europe and the Middle-East.
